

Name _____

1. Who is the author and what “time” is being described in this quote? _____

“These are the times that try men’s souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of his country; but he that stands it NOW, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman.”

- A. Thomas Paine, 1776, the coming of the American Revolution.
- B. Abraham Lincoln, 1861, as the nation approaches Civil War.
- C. Woodrow Wilson, 1917, in his war message to Congress.
- D. Franklin Roosevelt, 1941, following the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.
- E. John F. Kennedy, 1962, alerting the American people to Soviet missiles in Cuba.
- F. Martin Luther King, Jr., 1963, at the March on Washington.
- G. Ronald Reagan, 1983, rallying the nation to battle the Soviet Union in a “Cold War.”
- H. Colin Powell, 2003, as the United States prepares to make war on Iraq.

2. Why did you select this person, date and event?